Another way of referring to cells is to NAME cells

To name a cell, click in the cell, then go to the Name Box

Type in the what you want to name the cell

Once named you can refer to the cell by name by either typing the name, or starting to type it and selecting from the dropdown list

You can also go to the ribbon formula and choose Use in formula